Have you ever encountered a website that shows pictures that slide automatically? Ever wondered how they do this? Want one for your own blog or website? Seek no further! FlashSlider creates a slideshow of your images or digital pictures with just a few mouse clicks, and saves it automatically into a single Flash animation. No need to learn Shockwave Flash, and absolutely no programming skills are required! FlashSlider takes your images and turns them into a slideshow that is ready to be published to your website. It'll even provide you with an HTML code that you can simply paste into your website.

FlashSlider allows you to assign links to an entire slideshow or to separate images to present enlarge photos or forward your visitors to a certain blog post or web page.

If you have large images, your visitors may experience slow load times, which can make a slideshow appear jerky. Not with FlashSlider! Thanks to pre-loading support, slideshows made with FlashSlider always play smooth with no jerkiness or delays.

Are you a designer or professional photographer? Empower your online portfolio and present pictures automatically with a Shockwave Flash slideshow! Present your best images sliding or fading into view, add text titles and comments, and provide background music for better effect. You don't need to be a professional web developer to add a slideshow to your website. Creating a slideshow of your digital pictures with FlashSlider is much easier than shooting them!

Do you sell images online? Assign a link to an order page or add images to a shopping cart one by one with URLs! FlashSlider can assign links to an entire slideshow as well as to separate images, allowing the creation of a shopping experience to be as straightforward as possible.

Intrigued and want to get into technical details? Here are the facts. FlashSlider creates standard SWF animations that are easy to embed into Web pages. It makes a slideshow of any files in supported graphical formats, including BMP, JPEG, GIF, PNG, and TIFF. You can use MP3, WAV, PCM or ADPCM sound files for background music. There are about 120 nice-looking transition effects. You can drag-and-drop images and music to the slideshow and add stop points and text titles to the frames. FlashSlider supports pre-loading for smooth playback without jerkiness or delays.
